Mr. Q's Corner

Here we are beginning 2011. The Christmas party is behind us and by the time you read this issue of the Rough Draft, the New Years ride will also be in the past by a few days. We are looking forward to some new things happening in 2011 with the Club. After decades of a hard copy of the newsletter, FCC is joining the 21st century and going to an electronic issue of the Rough Draft. There will still be a few of you who prefer a hard copy mailed and that is fine and will be an option. Also hard copies will still be distributed to all the bike shops, but the majority of the members will receive theirs by email with a password for the main text. The details and technical aspects of the change are now being worked out. The web site will also undergo reconstruction and take on a new look and should be ready within few months.

On a more disturbing note, it seems that in the last few months I've heard about a number of harassment incidents by individuals in cars against cyclist. The last reported incident took place well within the populated areas of north Fresno and Clovis. The most recent took place in the vicinity of Shepherd and Chestnut. A vehicle pulled up dangerously close to a cyclist, one of the occupants of the car reached out of the window and pushed the rider causing him to crash. This senseless action has the potential to cause serious (continued on page 2)

The Fresno Cycling Club wishes everyone the best for 2011, and we hope you have a safe and fun year in cycling.

Happy Cycling!

Senior Benefit Bike Event April 16th, 2011

By Mike Thomson

Please mark your calendars for our Third Annual Benefit Bike Ride for the Ranchos/Hills Senior Center, located just off of Avenue 12 at 37330 Berkshire Drive in Madera Ranchos. This is to benefit the folks at the Center who work hard to raise money throughout the year to keep their Center open. Door prizes, food, and fun are standard fare at our events. Last year's rides were 10, 25, and 65 miles. We are thinking of adding a century ride this year. Fliers will follow in future newsletter. Please direct inquiries to Mike Thomson 559-240-1525 or Joann Blancett 559-645-4864. The Center is open Monday-Friday from 9am until 1pm. Feel free to come visit us anytime. Happy New Year!

The club continues to offer the ever-popular red and yellow jersey. This jersey would make a great addition to your selection of riding apparel. The standard blue and yellow is also available in both men and women specific sizes. There are also blue/yellow and red/yellow wind vests with back pockets. Cost of jerseys are $60.00; the wind vests are $55.00.

injury. Fortunately, the rider was not injured except for a few scrapes and bruises.

Another incident that was described to me, took place in northeast Clovis. A driver yelled at a cyclist as he passed to get off of the road. The driver then pulled ahead, stopped, got of his car, and approached the cyclist in a threatening manner. The cyclist then moved to the opposite side of the road as fast as possible and darted into a neighborhood to get away. If an incident as described above happens to you, try to remember all you can about the incident and report it to the police.

Ride safe and see you on the road.

Advocacy Report for January, 2011

By Nick Paladino

Recently an issue has arisen with the Fresno County Transportation Authority (FCTA) over the usage of the Measure C sales tax funds set aside for bicycle lanes. The Measure "C" Extension Expenditure Plan that was approved by the voters of Fresno County in November, 2006, to continue the ½ cent sales tax for transportation included a separate fund or earmark for the installation of bicycle lanes. That paragraph of the Expenditure Plan, Earmarks for Bicycle Facilities, reads "these funds may be used only for retrofitting bicycle lanes within the circulation system that existed as of January 2007 or the date of adoption of the (Bicycle) Master Plan." It was the intent of the Measure C Extension Steering Committee (of which I was a member) that these funds be used to install new bicycle lanes on already developed streets, hence the use of the word "retrofit". To me the word "retrofit" meant to go back and add something new to an already existing facility or to update an already existing facility.

In early December I learned that a city within the county desired to use its bicycle lane money to re-stripe existing bicycle lanes as well as install new bicycle lanes. The city sought permission from the FCTA to do so. In January 2010 the FCTA interpreted the definition of "retrofit" to include "update". The FCTA then asserted that this interpretation then allowed for the "update or maintenance" of existing bicycle lanes with the Bicycle Facilities funds. That city then used most of its bicycle lane earmark funds in FY09/10 to re-stripe existing bicycle lanes.

Bicycle lanes, once installed, are part of the roadway. Maintenance of bicycle lanes should be part of the normal roadway maintenance program and paid for out of maintenance funds.

I objected to the FCTA's interpretation on two grounds. First, it violates the intention of the Steering Committee that wrote the Expenditure Plan. Second, this interpretation is not consistent with the definition of the word "retrofit". When I spoke to the FCTA staff about this matter, I was told that I should formally state my objections in a letter.

I presented this issue at the December meeting of the Fresno Cycling Club's Board of Directors and asked whether I should write a formal letter from the club to the FCTA stating the club's objections to this interpretation. The Board voted unanimously that I should write a letter of objection. That letter was delivered to the FCTA on December 20, 2010, and I likely will not receive a formal response until after the holidays. If the FCTA maintains its position, I have already asked that the issue be discussed at the January meeting of the Measure C Citizens Oversight Committee, of which I am a member.

If the club should lose its appeal, what would be the practical effect? Existing bicycle lanes should be well maintained; that is, the white stripe should not be allowed to fade away. However, few new bicycle lanes will be retrofitted or installed on existing streets.

If anyone has any comments or questions on this issue, please contact me at the phone number and email shown on the club officer listing.

CITRUS TASTING RIDE IN LEMON COVE

By Nancy Dooley

Marshall and Kathy Taylor, longtime Fresno Cycling Club ride leaders from the South Valley, led a ride to the University of California's Lindcove Research and Extension Center for their annual citrus tasting on December 11, 2010. This research facility offers a once a year opportunity for the public to sample over one hundred and fifty varieties of citrus that their scientists have developed over the past year. Sampling all that citrus was a real treat, with the added benefit of getting a megadose of vitamin C!

Marshall and Kathy are known for offering an educational or cultural twist to their rides. Over the years, they have guided us to various places of interest: to an olive ranch where we were treated to a private tour of a family run olive oil operation; to an abandoned apple-processing barn above Three Rivers where a reclusive but talented artist regaled us with his life story while showing us his exceptional paintings; and finally, to Exeter where the old late 1800s brick buildings are covered with colorful murals that depict life as it once was 100 years ago.

Kathy and Marshall will be offering the popular Exeter Mural Ride again in January (check the newsletter for the date). Be sure to make the time to drive the hour from Fresno to be part of this ride. We tour Exeter and visit over 18 murals. We then ride 10 miles south to the town of Lindsay to see their murals. The return is through orange groves and along the canal bank back to the start. As always, on our return there is an optional lunch at one of the many exceptional restaurants in Exeter.
